

Dear Colleagues,

I hope you have been keeping safe. I know these are extremely trying times for you and your family, and I wish you the best. Professionally you provide the bedrock on which this whole pandemic is being fought. The nation salutes you as do your colleagues.

Your council and officers are working hard to put together a wonderful annual Virtual meeting for you. As you can tell, this is a hard job, and all are working diligently to pull off this wonderful meeting. You will be proud of the effort. (The agenda and program are on the AMLI website). Please do go and register to attend the meeting. This is very important and shows your support for your society. We are banking on it. Also, please visit the website and see all the new things going on there.

The council will have a virtual meeting very soon to discuss some exciting proposals. I will keep you abreast in these notes and by the time the annual meeting comes around, you will be pleasantly surprised.

Please submit your abstracts for the meeting also. This is a scientific meeting and your submissions/presentations give the meeting its prestige and value. Awards will be given just like on previous occasions.

Please converse with us, let Maggie or any of the officers know about any concerns you may have or any new ideas, which we would like to hear about. Also, please volunteer to shoulder some of the responsibilities. We are looking for some members to take on roles in the society. Please let me know or send Maggie an email to volunteer for any of our positions.

Thank you and take care of yourselves.

Happy July 4th!

Thanks,

A handwritten signature in black ink that reads 'M. Qasim Ansari MD'. The signature is written in a cursive style.

Qasim Ansari

M. Qasim Ansari MD
Chief, Pathology and Laboratory Medicine
LS Cleveland VA Medical Center
Professor, Pathology
Case Western Reserve University